

Zodiac signs and cancer surgery

F. M. Riegler

Dear Readers,

Crossing the shadows, lights, glances and spectrum of colors of empty streets, roads, places, sidewalks and gardens you face the smell, the taste, the fascination and breath of the birth of a new day. Every new day is a great day. We only forget about it. We loose this very awareness. We are taken away from the essence of our life. This happens on a daily basis. Business drives us crazy. Numbers count. Wall street stocks the exchange. This occurs continuously. And if we do not care we are not taken care of. Fair care starts with yourself in your heart if you will. Every morning after the get up stand up procedure for not having to wait in vain for the I shot the sheriff with echo of burning and looting for woman no cry over the revolution solution revelation in your mind the shower taker teeth brush cleaner faces the self in the mirror and asks: welcome again, you survived the night, it is great to see that you are still alive, you definitely made it my friend to get older, what a success over time. My dear vis-a-vis could you be so kind to allow me addressing a suggestive question: whom do you picture? Me? Or do I picture you? Who the hell are you, this guy in the mirror? Whom do I face? You laugh, when I laugh? You cry when I cry? You twinkle and mingle, when I twinkle and mingle? Are you my representation? My copy? Who is your face? I and I and who? What do I picture? Whose mirror am I? Them belly full catch a fire put it on for equal rights and lively up yourself. Fill the gap with humanism.

Melodies over makers tune around your brain as you dry and dress, coffee, green apple ham water pinophagocytosis nutrition day opener. This was the short remembrance of the before. Now you are back at the road that takes you to the towers of fate, the late for all of them, the employees, the maintenance personal and those who come for a good service. The towers sell health care. The towers were erected on the top of the hill: signs of the modern civilization. Before beautiful mellow green gardens and pastry pavilions covered the holy hill. Mentally ill amigos have been treated and lived here at the clinic Hoff-nung. On the top of a hill. Amazing. And who lives there now on the top of the hill?

The clients enter with impaired life quality and productivity. Short of wellbeing, breath, heart rate, blood pressure, red blood cells, leucocytes, monocytes, throm-bocytes, stereocytes, columnar epithelial cells, high definition, tripartite animocytes, squamous lined tubing & sacks, thyroid, fool lick el jah from beyond and behind, above and below, sexual hormone traffic regulation, stool frequency, happiness, adequate nutrition, body mass index, money and economy. Inter faeces et urinam nascimur. It all seems over out balanced, massive over-stretched and distended, superimposed, the clients of the towers dilate and migrating lipomas cross section the surface and get stuck in their bubbling skins. They came, cold sweat running around their globes and lobes, they asked and got it. Trocar game players refurbished the abdomen belly upper 2 quadrants to bypass the lack of discipline for the benefit of company output and health care system expenses the program saves lives that is for sure. Major applause straddles the scene. Shake the budget. Study the group. Power the profit. Narrow the mind. Open the box.

The prehistoric fox Jonathan opens the mouth and anima film fluently funny flows to your mirror making man maker mind. A star story still silly shaker empties and googles the go go with sound: it is said that many years ago, let us suggest 10.500 years before OUR TIME there should have been an ancient population at THEIR TIME. No nan is an easter island; therefore there is population. This population is told of having been deleted by a furious environmental destruction program: planet play station earth breaker interstellar comet comedy. Watery waves waved the victim ancestors around the globe. The population put signs of its existence around the world (Fig. 1). The pyramids and the sphinx in Egypt (nobody knows how the country has been named during that time), the pyramids in Mid and South America, the Nazca lines in Peru, Olmec faces, stonehenge (British open) and other expressions mirror the position of the twelve zodiac signs ($n = 12$, paired data). Computer animation indicated that the orientation of the structures (animal faces etc.) exactly correlates with the position of the respective signs of the zodiac at the skies 10.500 years before INRI. Other structures point to the horizon and were oriented along the position of the sunrise lines during the longest or shortest days of the years, at that time. The structures served as a global cosmic watch and as the representations of the signs of zodiac on OUR earth. These fascinating findings suggest that the above arts have been created at that time and aimed to create a sign of witness for what is now termed: the lost population. Today cancer is the major stimulator of health care economy. Taurus waits out there for the harmony which is never to come. The

Correspondence: Franz Martin Riegler, M.D., Associate Professor of Surgery, Manometry Lab & Department of Surgery, Medical University Vienna, Waehringer Guertel 18-20, 1090 Vienna, Austria.
Fax: ++43-1-40400 3478
E-mail: Franz.Riegler@meduniwien.ac.at

Fig. 1: Grave stone, Castelluccio culture, Sicily, 2500 B.C., pictures the archaic knowledge. The image cartoons the idea of the author, that art and ancient religious concepts draw back the line to the essential question: whom do we mirror, whose mirror are we? What do we aim to represent? This optical biopsy has been obtained by the author 01/2012, using iPhone technology

Fig. 2: Stone figure, Valletlunga culture, Sicily, 2200 B.C., pictures archaic knowledge of ancient religious concepts and is suggested to mirror the representation of a stellar calendar. The round elements are suggested to picture the stars used for time measurements (cosmic watch). Archaic knowledge connects man and earth with the universe. This optical biopsy has been obtained by the author 01/2012, using iPhone technology other members of the zodiac hang on. It shows that there existed and still exists an intense connection between us here on earth and the wide pride of the space universe around us (Fig. 2). Most importantly it recalls us to question: whom are we here to picture? Whom do we mirror? The ancient pieces of art mirror the zodiac signs. The signs of the zodiac picture the characters and personalities of the human beings. There exists a tune of mood in favor of the concept that, at the time of our procreation and birth we get formatted by the radiation arising from those stars and planets which compose the signs of the zodiac? So may it be that we mirror the planets, the stars, the universe? Are we representations of the universe? We are part of it. Do we exist under the remote control of these radiations? But this is not the entire body of the stomach. The high definition pylorus opens and reveals the speed. The dots of light in the skies picture the position of the planets millions of what we call years ago. This means that we mirror the pictures of the far past delayed by the time which the light requires to cross the space to reach the network of our retina for the creation of the image of the star. These questions are not issues of facts, data for statistic calculations. These issues matter more than p values for selling drugs, technologies, New England racing team membership exploitation none is hero (NIH) of the Island of St. grant. Here we talk about OLD England, old Europe, old America. But what means old if all time could be the single open and shut of the mouth of the fox? Swallow, digest, reflux, gas bloat and the chandrasoma gives birth to the moon, the stars, the all. The process of being along time is indeed perceived as the continuous flow of mood. We mirror and picture the essence; there is no better lingual catch. We contain the being and all colors, moods, tunes, shapes, light, shadows, spectra all the speak and not speak abouts of manifestation: hope, fear, anxiety, happiness, fun, greed, thankfulness, hate, humility and love.

And our patients do so, too. This is why, irrespective of their social, economic, religious, and political orientation, our patients deserve our respect, attention, time, being, love, and sympathy for fair care. Today all that matters chills, it chills in over through and most importantly OUT. It is all about CHILL. Chill I eye con carne, fish, bull, beef, burger, buffalo, porky & piss, and who is next? Red bull solo shark shaker in the elevator, because the individual ran out of coke and dooper? Normally man/woman has 2 hands to say: „hallo“, shake hands, measure the dimensions, caress, beat, strike, slash, hold, carry and indicate: signs, write and wave. Today human being still comes with 2 hands. MACMAN hand one holds the electronic tabulator, MACMAN hand two operates the tabulator (I pad you dad so dead), because in old Egypt the term „dead“ stood for isolation, irrespective of the presence or absence of heart beat, circulation and blood pressure. Modern MACMAN and MACWOMAN became highly autistic. The mind set goes away from the way I talk to you, the you is replaced by the platform of the pad. Lost in the pad, away from analogue communication. I chat you chat to owe chat. Click and pick. Listen: we have to find the balance. Economy is driven falling into the trap of continuous consumption (Fig. 3). Filet open medium rare

Fig. 3: The economy driven modern society centers the focus of joy, consumption and technology. This approach lacks humility, goodness and favors the superficial competition through greed, hate and envy. As a consequence man exposes to isolation, loneliness, frustration and anxiety. These emotional tunes profoundly impair the life quality and productivity. Society gets out of balance. We should outbalance. This optical biopsy has been obtained by the author 01/2012 in Catania, Sicily, using iPhone technology copy paste al dente down to the roots of your timber teeth. This scenario is all against the iatros performance. LISTEN without an a, the iatros outbalances. Are we treating tabs, sad pads, PCs, cellular phones? As you come across the patient wards that very morning you face dysbalanced highly motivated young doctors (females, males 1:1, $p < 0.001$ student fair test) sitting in front of computer screens watching CT scans and discussing the CASES. Dots and nodes appear and vanish as they scroll along the perspectives of the images, which picture the organs of a person.

The doctors are fascinated about the possibilities that they can cut out the nodes, resect the dots, kill the tumours, ablate the tissues within a complex prospective randomized double blind chemo radiation therapy. Zodiac sign cancer surgery excites them all. Tumor staging happens highly effective and fast: zero, one, two, three, four. It only counts if we are not affected. But, zodiac sign meets physician, too, from time to time. Time after time, the miles trumpet davis tunes the sound of modern Jericho isolated within the circle of walls directed against our selves. „We will enroll the patient (= the CT scan) into the OSFA study (= one size fits all study)“, Dr. Plurabelle Jennifer Named said. Dr. Vinegar Sauerbruch exclamavit: „Well, we also could use the patient (= CASE) for the FOMEPE study (for my ego and purse study)“. Another young female, Dr. Flora Funeral floated: „This is the perfect case (= patient) for the IDOCAP study (I do not care about patients study)“. All the other laura and blues nicks names numbered the full fear foal fox cis plat in for the grey hound dog cemetery out fielders. But what the hell is going on here? Who is the holder of the mirror? We have to bring them back into the field. Whom does the CT scan picture? Isn't there a crying per sonare person? A soul, a human being with feelings, hopes, desires, fears, pains, wishes, dreams, emotions, tears of anxiety? THIS IS THE CASE, because it happens IN man. It matters because it happens in man and in woman, in males and females, in all races and places. Out of control the modern electronic technology becomes a torture for mankind, the dictator of reasoning and live.

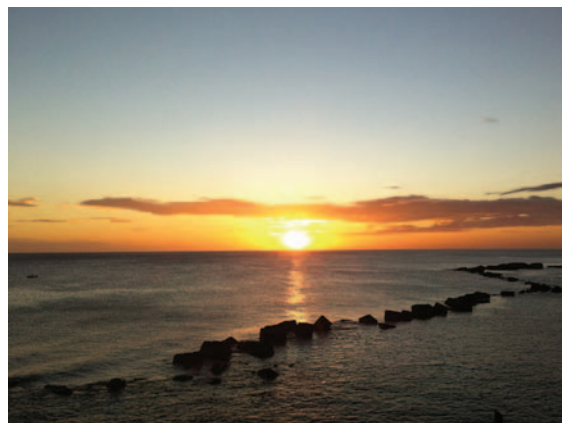

Fig. 4: Let your Sun rise, enjoy the beauty of the birth of a new day. This optical biopsy has been obtained by the author 12/2011 in Syracuse, Sicily, using iPhone technology

Doctors, brothers and sisters, girls and boys, friends of the humanistic mind, stop to function as a puppet under remote control, stop the chiller, shut off your tabs, pads, cells and phones, just for a MOMENTUM. Discontinue the game of shame. Necessity burns. Requirements nourish the fountain high up in the mountain. Fold your hands (cum manibus individualibus) and take your time and walk to the patient, sit down with the aminma patientis: listen and learn. Haven't your mother and your father taught you: humility, gratefulness, goodness, love and attention? Believe me there is a lot you can learn about YOURSELF, more than google, fail mail & face book can teach you. This is THE CASE: it is all about you. But your ego became so important, your ego orientation drives your decisions and your reasoning, you really think that you are important. The fact is that, as you behave, you are unimportant at all. Not even a pause within the score. You lack the emotional feel for the essence, you lost your ART of communication. Slow down, stop the remote, step back, step out, take his her story for YOUR glory. You cannot put it on the bill. No one will pay for it, except with their lives. There is no need for shirt, tie and expensive slippery shoes, cars and diamonds. You are a part of it, we all are parts of it. Six feet at last. As I told you: it is all about you. The system does not care what we think about it, it is as it is and as it is, it is perfect. Nothing is for sure, except one. And this is why we should open our minds, eyes and hearts for the power of the essence. Let your Sun rise, shine and reincarnate (Fig. 4). Let your Moon mirror your Sun, give it a smile all the while, the half always pictures the whole. Stay tuned and treat with humility, picture yourself NOW.

Sincerely,
Martin Riegler

Conflict of interest

The author declares that there exists no conflict of interest.